The bouldering competition was exciting for spectators as well. From the following week, one after another of the neighborhood children came to the wall with applications. A high school student joined ACN from as far as 10 km away.

As for the lottery, which is familiar to participants, many more presents were sent from Japan, so we could hold it continuously. Thank you very much for your cooperation.

Guiding tour in rock climbing area

to earn money by guiding guests on our climbing tours, it means they will get closer to becoming economically independent.

These days, they go on tours at the rate of twice a month. Sometimes, guests do not show even though the date was fixed in advance, and sometimes, there are not enough staff for the tour on the day when guests want to go. When rainy season comes, staff have to judge according to road and weather conditions and also

One of the nonprofit activities of ACN is to support development professional abilities and increase job opportunities. If ACN staff are able properly prepare for emergencies. There are still many things to think about. We would like to ask Japanese people to climb with the staff of the ACN and support them to develop their skills.

Supporting CCF Cambodia Climbing Federation

CCF became a member of IFSC, International Federation of Sports Climbing,

We started to support this by looking for a sponsor. Fortunately, Taica Corporation became the sponsor of CCF, and the Cambodia Olympic Committee indicated its approval, so CCF officially joined IFSC on March 17th 2018.

Since Cambodia is registered as a continental member, it cannot hold an international competition but climbers can be registered internationally. In Southeast Asia, Cambodia is in the same position as the Philippines.

There was a meeting of IFSC Asia and SEACF, South East Asia Climbing Federation, in the Philippines at the end of February 2018. Semrorn, the director general of CCF, attended the meeting at the end of February since CCF was just joining IFSC officially and was invited to SEACF's Instructor Training Course in Indonesia.

Training in Indonesia

Since the invitation was offered on short notice and we didn't have time to select climbers, Seyha, Channy and Pisay, who already have passports, participated in the training with the acceptance by Indonesia, a host organization, even though the training program was for women age 16 and over and mainly aimed at speed climbing. Just before departing, it became clear that Cambodia could not participate in the Asian Climbing Competition because of mistakes by CCF and a misunderstanding by COC, and there were concerns about participating this training. However, they voluntarily participated in the training and had a good experience with support from Taica

Instructor Training in Bali

For this training, SEACF invited two new trainees from Myanmar and Cambodia, which are new member countries, bearing with each respective travel expenses. So, with the support for one person, air fare and other expenses from Taica, Kimsroy and Mono, a teacher of Somdach ov High School attended the training. They received training in climbing artificial walls and natural rocks, and became CCF's first instructors authorized by SEACF

The future course of ACN Cambodia, as a member organization of CCF

When CCF was established in 2010 in Cambodia, almost all Cambodian climbers lived in Siem Reap, so the location of CCF was officially in Siem Reap. However, these days, there is a new movement to carry out the aim of ACN, which is to support the activities of establishing ACN Cambodian by Cambodians themselves.

On the chart, the green parts show CCF. When it started, there were eleven members and no experienced climbers except Semrorn. In order to build the organization, a few officials and teachers were assigned to the members. When CCF joined IFSC, Channy and Tevy became members as representatives of climbers, being advised by the organization. Still, there were only three climbers out of thirteen and there were just two living in Phnom Penh.

However, in late 2017, Bobby, an American climber, became a coach at Phnom Climb, which opened in Phnom Penh at the end of 2015, and he was strongly committed to training climbers. Then Semrorn called for some Cambodians and organized an executive group with Mr. Sotharin, a Cambodian climber living in the capital, and was given responsibility for the administrative work. (yellow part)

As the leading members, Sotharin, Bobby, Semrorn and Toy Bunhouern, advanced a plan to hold domestic competitions. At the same time, the government announced that the CCF's climbing competition would be held as the 39th official national sports meets on December 7~10 in Siem Reap. (right chart)

Present plan of climbing competition

Local competition began.

We are planning to hold preceding regional and local competitions before the national competition. ACN joined the regional competitions in Siem Reap for the first time as one of the club teams belonging to CCF, which were held on March 25th and May 6th.

However, there are only two climbing walls: one in Phnom Penh and the Angkor Wall. So the players who compete at the regional

The next competitions will be the Regional Championship in June and the Lotus Cup, which is a National Championship held on August 11-12 at Phnom Climb. It will be sponsored by CCF and Taica Corporation, and conducted by Phnom Climb. If players win the competition, they will be able to participate in the Asian Championship (age 16 and over) held in Kurayoshi, Tottori, Japan in November, or the Asian Youth Championship (age 14~19) in Chongqing, China in November. There are several hurdles to cross before we

We would like people in Japan to support us by sending participants to "Tottori-Kurayoshi in November 7~11."

At the local competition on March 25, players chose routes one after another and climbed them again and again. On May 6, players over 14 did lead-climbing

Editor's note

“Where is Innsbruck?” “It’s in Austria, not Australia. There was an IFSC general meeting there, and Cambodia was able to join an international league. The application was already accepted last August.” “Is that so?”

A lot of people visit Cambodia from Europe but for Cambodians, Europe is still an unknown region. This time, however, Europe has come closer through this participation. CCF could not attend the meeting in Innsbruck but we were surprised when we read the papers relating to the meeting sent from IFSC. It says that the next general meeting of IFSC will be held in Tokyo or Yokohama in March. Will the staff members of SEACF who took care of us attend the meeting in Japan? We hope we can participate the Olympic Games together !
